

Biotechnologist

Biotechnologists study plants, animals and microorganisms to develop uses for biological processes and create products for pharmaceutical, agricultural, diagnostic and environmental use, and advance industrial processes. They use small molecule technologies, nanotechnology, bioinformatics and synthetic biology.

